Note: The new forecast is based on the “Preconditions for the July 2021 Earnings Forecast” on page 3. Actual results may vary due to changes in circumstances, so these forecasts should not be construed as a guarantee of such results. Ichigo Hotel will make a forecast revision should a material discrepancy emerge between this forecast and results.

2. July 2021 Earnings Forecast Revision Rationale

The second state of emergency declared by the Japanese government in January 2021 and further extended in March for Tokyo and neighboring prefectures has resulted in another sharp decrease in hotel demand.

Although hotel demand is expected to gradually recover on the back of the Covid vaccine rollout which began last month, the recovery is expected to take time.

Given these circumstances, Ichigo Hotel is revising down its July 2021 fiscal period (February 1, 2021 – July 31, 2021) earnings forecast announced on September 14, 2020, having reviewed its outlook for variable rent and taking into account potential requests from hotel operators for exemptions and/or deferrals of fixed rent payment.

As a result, the forecast for July 2021 operating revenue, operating profit, net income, and dividend per share are each expected to decrease by JPY 4 million (-0.4%), JPY 47 million (-11.0%), JPY 52 million (-23.0%), and JPY 203 (-23.0%), respectively, versus the previous forecast.

Should any further change to the outlook for operating results arise, Ichigo Hotel will promptly disclose the details.
